

William G. Parrett

Retired CEO, Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu

Director: Blackstone, Kodak, Thermo Fisher, UBS

Bill Parrett has taken on diverse and complex directorships and quickly made an indelible mark, most notably by seeing Kodak through bankruptcy reorganization and chairing the UBS audit committee during turbulent times.

“Bill has stepped up in a big way as Kodak has taken this difficult journey. Post-bankruptcy, he led the process of recruiting our new CEO and bringing him on board,” says Jim Continenza, chairman of Eastman Kodak. “He has a big brain, a small ego, and always supports getting to the right decision.”

“There is no question that public interest is fearlessly and completely looked after at Blackstone,” says Shelly Lazarus, a fellow board member. “There are few directors who are as wise or as thoughtful. Bill cares deeply and it shows.”

Career Highlights

- CEO, Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu (2003 – 2007)
- Founded US Deloitte’s Global Financial Services Industry Group (1995)
- Founded and chaired Deloitte’s Global Financial Services Industry Group (1997)
- Served on Deloitte’s Global Executive Committee (1999 – 2007)
- Joined Deloitte (1967)
- Chairman, US Council for International Business, (2005 – 2010)
- Prior directorship: iGate