

TEACHING AND LEARNING THEME

WORKSHOP OVERVIEWS

Preparing apprentices for the world of work, and the work of the world

by Cerian Ayres and Charlotte Bonner, Education and Training Foundation

In this session we will explore the importance of providing high-quality information, advice, guidance and support at each stage of the apprentice journey. From induction to preparation for Gateway and End-Point Assessment the teacher plays a pivotal role in preparing work-ready individuals with the knowledge, skills, competencies and behaviours for the world of work and the work of the world.

We will focus on what it means to be a T-Shaped learner and particularly how Education for Sustainable Development (ESD) is increasingly being recognised as a core component of quality education, developing skills that are desired by employers and that help meet sustainability goals.

We'll provide practical ideas to enhance and enrich your delivery and share toolkits, resources and case studies. We'll also signpost to our recently launched Apprenticeship Workforce Development offer that is available at no charge.

Supporting learner skill development with maths and English through engaging virtual delivery

by Christine Edwards QTLS, Creating Excellence

This workshop will explore some of the key features and benefits that can be achieved through utilising engaging methods of delivery for maths and English via online learning.

Content:

- ✔ Overcoming barriers to maths and English
- ✔ Preparing and delivering online learning Learner participation and engagement
- ✔ Monitoring and checking progress
- ✔ transferring resources and activities to online delivery.

Adult Education Budget and the New Adult L3 offer

by Bryony Kingsland, City and Guilds and Simon Ashworth, AELP

This session will be a dynamic discussion about the policy and developments in the 19+ landscape and the new level 3 adult offer, which forms part of the Lifetime Skills Guarantee. The webinar will provide a thorough overview of the policy concepts and future direction of travel, the funding challenges and opportunities for training providers, the qualifications that form part of the offer and the opportunity for further qualifications to be added, and a final discussion of potential delivery models. Expect a stimulating and expert briefing from the panel with an interactive session on delivery models and time for questions.

Collaborating to Engage with BAME Communities

by Bidy Lall, JGA Group

Provider and Employer Engagement This session aims to connect ideas of provider and employer engagement with BAME communities to increase representation across learning programmes and routes into employment.

Goals of training session:

- 🌱 Describe BAME community as an Employer and as a Provider
 - 🌱 Discuss how employers and providers interact with BAME communities
 - 🌱 Share and connect ideas for engagement and commitment to progress(ion).
-

Deploying Digital Skills: Building a funded offer from Entry Level to Level 5

by Paul Saunders and Diana Muallem, Gateway Qualification

The coronavirus pandemic has thrown the need for improving digital skills at all levels into sharp focus. Digital is fast becoming the third entitlement alongside English and maths. In this workshop we'll explore how you can build a funded offer from basic skills to expert specialisms, tailored to meet the employer and learner needs in your area.

We'll show you how to develop holistic approaches which incorporate the new legal entitlement for Essential Digital Skills into Traineeships, Sector-Based Work Academies and other courses included in National Skills Fund. And we'll also look at progression opportunities for developing digital specialisms or retraining for a new career.